THE M'DANIEL CASE

STATE REVEALS ALLEGED MOTIVES FOR MURDER.

FEARED EXPOSURES

County Prosecutor Was Afraid Wife Would Reveal Facts Detrimental to Him—Loved Another Woman.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Joseph, Oct. 18.—The state today for the first time revealed what it charges to be the real motives behind the murder of Mrs. Oscar McDaniel, wife of the county prosecutor.

The special prosecutor, Lockwood, in his opening statement to the jury, declared that Oscar McDaniel slew his wife for love of another woman, because he feared that his wife might make some exposures that would be detrimental to his social standing.

Lockwood says that Mr McDaniels' wife was no social climber, and that while he forged ahead into the public spot light, winning a reputation for himself, his wife remained quietly at home, her interest in life centered mainly around her children.

FOR TRADE WEEK

PLANS FORMULATED FOR BIGGEST EVENT OF SEASON.

MERCHANTS TAKE HOLD

Will Offer Special Price Inducements and Merchandise Displays in Addition to Fare Refund.

The biggest trade week yet held in Maryville is the aim of the co-operative fare refund and trade event to be inaugurated by the merchants here during the first week of December. Besides the system of refunding fares the retail dealers of Maryville will offer special inducements and display new merchandise that should bring people not only from all parts of Nodaway county, but also from surrounding counties. In fact, if the plan is successful as it has been in other places the people will come from one hundred miles or more away.

While the details of the plan have not yet been fully developed, final announcement will be made the first of the week. The system will provide for refunding fares from every place in the county, as well as from places in surrounding counties.

It makes no difference how the trip to Maryville is made, fares will be refunded on the basis of the number of miles from the postoffice address. Whether you come by train, by wagon, automobile or otherwise, it's all the same so far as getting your refund is concerned. Your mileage will be paid. The system provides a card which will show the amount of purchases made at the different stores, the refund being based on a moderate system of purchases.

The trade territory of Maryville has approximately a population of 60,000 people. This includes the county and the immediate surrounding territory. Every one in this territory will be fully informed of the event.

It might also be added that since the trade week comes only a short time from Christmas, it is an opportune time for shopping. You may make your holiday and winter purchases at this time and obtain all the advantage of the newest stocks.

This is the first time that the merchants of Maryville have ever held a trade event that will cover as wide a territory. And the direct co-operative feature of fare refund assures those who trade here the first week of December a money making and novel feature.

Among the merchants who are taking interest in the possibilities of trade week, and who have promised their hearty co-operation are: Alderman-Yehle Dry Goods Co., Eversole & Son, Montgomery-Lyle Clothing Co., Schumacher's grocery, Haines dry goods store, Holmes jewelry store, Murphy Clothing Co., Corwin-Murrin Clothing Co., Curfman Lumber Co., Phares Lumber Co. and Garrett Hardware Co.

BEAR CATS SKINNED

NORMAL TEAM OVERWHELMED BY SPRINGFIELD 46-0.

LOCALS LACKED PUNCH

Excel in Open Playing But Fail to Make Touchdown—Scott and Hahn Play Good Games.

The Bear Cats were overwhelmingly defeated yesterday in their clash with the Springfield normals on the home grounds. The score at the end of the first quarter was 0-0 in favor of Maryville—that is, the ball was in Springfield's territory all of the time. The score at the close of the game stood 46-0 in favor of Springfield. But the score does not tell the whole story.

Maryville won the flip and chose to defend the west goal. Springfield kicked off. A lively wind was blowing from the west and carried the Bear Cats to a lively tune. Pickens ran back with the ball, and it looked for a while as if he would get away for a touchdown before they could stop him. He ploughed through the Springfield team, but the only man between him and the goal downed him.

By a series of end runs Maryville was within Springfield's 10-yard line. But failing to make downs, Maryville punted. Springfield failed to make downs. Maryville's ball. On the fourth down the Bear Cats tried a field goal but it missed. Springfield punted. Maryville's ball. By a series of end runs Maryville was on Springfield's 3-yard line.

But here is the question: Did Maryville pull a bonehead that probably cost her the opportunity of scoring? Some say that it was the third down and some say the fourth. But anyway, a field goal was tried and failed. Springfield punted safe. Maryville again ran the ball to Springfield's 5-yard line, and on the fourth down tried a field goal but failed. Springfield fumbled and Maryville recovered. Maryville was penalized for off side, and from this time on the Bear Cats were on the defensive.

After the first three minutes of the second quarter Springfield scored, and the score at the end of the first half stood 12 to 0 in favor of the visitors.

In the last quarter it became a regular slaughter. The big line from the Ozarks was too heavy for Maryville. Maryville was outweighed at least 20 pounds to the man. Maryville excelled in open playing but lacked the final punch of a heavy line.

Scott played a wonderful game for the Bear Cats, and Springfield did not make a single gain around Andrews' end. The little end was always there and turned the end runs toward the backfield. Hahn played a good game at left tackle. Most of Springfield's gains were made through the right end of Maryville's line just off tackle. Maryville worked the forward pass to good advantage several times but Springfield failed every time.

The following were the line-ups:

Maryville—Brown, c.; Sawyers and Lawton, guards; Hahn, Byerrum and Gannon, tackles; Andrews and Wagers, ends; Girard, full; Scott and Hubbard, halves; Pickens and Bird, quarter.

Bird substituted for Pickens in the fourth quarter and Gaunon for Byerrum.

Springfield—Balkins and Schaefer, ends; Engleman and Slats Greer, tackles; Cartwright and Cheek, guards; M. Greer, center; Barnard, quarter; C. Barnard and Curley Greer, halves; Red Oliver, full.

Misses Flossie and Annice Neal will visit over Sunday with friends in Pickering.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lanning of Hopkins are in Maryville on business today.

TO BE WITNESSES

W. R. TILSON, JOHN COLEMAN AND C. T. ANDERSON CALLED.

TO RED OAK, IOWA

Summoned by the Defense in Connection With Jones-Wilkerson Slander Suit.

W. R. Tilson, John Coleman and C. P. Anderson of Maryville have been summoned to Red Oak, Ia., as witnesses for the defense in the famous $60,000 damage suit of F. F. Jones, former Iowa state senator, against J. N. Wilkerson, a detective for the Burns agency.

The trial, which is attracting much attention, is the result of the Villisca ax murders, which occurred several years ago. It is alleged by Jones that Wilkerson slandered him in certain remarks made in connection with his investigations of the Villisca ax murders.

The last few days have been spent in the introduction of testimony by both sides. Witnesses for the plaintiff gave details of the meetings held at various places in Montgomery county before and after the failure of the grand jury to indict William Mansfield, who was held in connection with the murders, at which meeting Jones claimed to have been slandered by assertions that he financed the murders.

More interest is being evinced in the trial, owing to the prominence of the parties involved. Senator Jones was chairman of the educational committee at the last session of the legislature. He is represented by a strong array of talent. J. N. Wilkerson is regarded as one of William J. Burns' best detectives in the west.

Evidence that the Burns sleuth had openly accused Jones of being instrumental in causing the murders was introduced at the hearing. The witnesses testified mainly as to what transpired at meetings held by Wilkerson in Montgomery county following the failure of the grand jury to indict William Mansfield for the Villisca murder.

Gill Roth, Villisca barber, who testified that he was at the now famous meeting on the bank of the Nodaway river, or known as "the meeting in the pasture," declared on the stand that Wilkerson talked for five hours at the meeting and there declared that Jones furnished the money to pay for the murder of Jim Moore.

Other direct testimony in corroboration of Roth's story was offered by Joe Aldrich, George Winters, K. Day and Albert Wolfe, all of Villisca, and Senator W. H. Arney of Marshalltown. The Villisca witnesses also testified as to statements made at these meetings by Wilkerson, charging Jones with prompting the murder. Senator Arney related a conversation with Wilkerson in a Marshalltown hotel.

Richard Bickett of Greenfield, Ia., will arrive in Maryville tonight to visit over Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bickett.

GERMANS GAINING

TEUTONS ADVANCE 20 MILES IN RUMANIAN LAND.

AIR FIGHTS INCREASE

French-Serbs Near Gates of Monastir, But Every Inch Gained Means Heavy Loss.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Petrograd, Nov. 18.—While the German allies lost ground in Macedonia, they made important gains in the Rumanian theatre during the past thirty-six hours. South of Vulcan Pass Falkenhayn's army advanced twenty miles into Rumanian territory. The Teutons are bearing down upon the strategic railway town of Tirgujiului. In the lower Carpathians fighting is in progress in a blizzard. Campolung is the chief objective of the Teutons in the Transylvanian Alps, where fresh efforts were made. The Bulgarian-German defenses in the Serbian fortress of Monastir are being pounded by the Allies' artillery.

Shoot Down Zeppelin.

Petrograd, Nov. 18.—The Russian artillery, near Sarny, shot down a Zeppelin, it is stated in the dispatches from the front today. A crew of sixteen was captured.

British Capture Towns.

London, Nov. 18.—The British in Macedonia have reoccupied the towns of Froznik, Kumli and Barakli, according to the official dispatches. All were taken from the Bulgarians.

Aerial Activity Resumed.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The French and Serbs are engaged in a furious struggle for Monastir, and both sides have made fresh progress. They are now almost to the gates of the city. Six German aeroplanes were shot down Friday. With clearer weather the air activity is becoming much greater, especially on the Somme front. The attempt made last night by the Germans to press back the French menacing Peronne failed.

What is the difference between Mr. Hughes and George Washington? Well, there are several, but one is enough. Washington did the damage with the hatchet; Hughes played havoc with a hammer.—The Commoner.

Sixty years ago, says the Savannah Reporter, in its Andrew county history column, the county polled 889 votes for Buchanan and 428 for Fillmore. Forty years ago Hayes carried the county by 55, and twenty years ago McKinley carried Andrew county by 61 votes.

The oldest voter in northwest Missouri is Henry Knowles of Sherman township in Putnam county, whom the Unionville Republican reports to be 107 years old. He retains his mental faculties and is vigorous physically for a man of his age. The first national election in which he participated was that of 1832—the contest between Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay.

M. H. S. LOSES 13-7

HOME BOYS AGAIN DISAPPOINTED IN HOPE FOR VICTORY.

FACED TWO HANDICAPS

With 2 Boys Out of Game and on a Strange Field, Maryville Fails to Show Proper Form.

Handicapped by the loss of Kemp and Egley, and playing on a strange field, the M. H. S. football team was again disappointed in its hopes for a victory. The score was 13-7 in favor of Savannah.

Both of Savannah's touchdowns were made by Castle on wide end runs. Castle was the fastest man on either team, and when he got away with the ball he easily distanced all pursuers. Castle made his first touchdown in the second quarter, when he reeled off twenty yards around left end. He was tackled by Woodward just as he was crossing the goal line and carried outside. The referee could not see the play and was forced to rely on the testimony of spectators as to whether Castle had crossed the line before he was carried outside. He decided in favor of Savannah and the touchdown was allowed. Savannah failed on the put out. Score, Savannah 6, Maryville 0.

Castle's second touchdown was made in the third quarter on a sensational 40-yard run around left end. This time Savannah succeeded in kicking goal. Score, Savannah 13, Maryville 0.

Maryville did not get started until the last quarter. This was in great part due to the field on which they were playing. The field was a miniature mountain range, and Savannah proved themselves better mountain climbers than Maryville. All the scoring was done by the team having the downhill path.

Maryville's touchdown was made in the fourth quarter, after a series of line plunges which took them the length of the field without a stop. Pickens was the lucky man to carry the ball over the goal line. Daniels made a pretty goal kick. Score, Savannah 13, Maryville 7.

It is hard to pick individual stars for Maryville. Hardly a man on the team played a game of which he was capable. Woodward and Daniels were the chief ground gainers for Maryville. The gains were nearly all made on line plunges. There was only one successful forward pass in the game, and that was only for a gain of ten yards. It was made by Maryville in the closing minutes of the game.

In the Savannah game here there was a big hole in the center of the line. The Tarkio game was lost because of fumbles and a poor defense against forward passes. In the game yesterday the Maryville line was a stone wall, all Savannah's passes and trick plays were broken up and there were few fumbles. Castle's end runs were the only things that saved Savannah.

Both teams played good clean football. The decisions of the referee were fair and impartial and the best of feeling existed between the two teams after the game. Savannah considers itself avenged in some degree for the two base ball defeats handed them by Maryville.

The high school has two more games on its schedule, both of them to be played here. Next Friday the team will get revenge on Stanberry for that 34-0 defeat in the first game of the season. The Thanksgiving game will be played with Chillicothe high school.

The line-up at Savannah:

Savannah—Roberts, l. e.; Miller, l. t.; Martin, l. g.; Jenkins, c.; Goodell, r. g.; Myers, r. t.; Maughmer, r. e.; Bishop, q. b.; Castle, R. G. B.; Wigfield, l. g. b.; Barr, f. b.

Substitutions—Reno for Jenkins, Ramsey for Masters.

Officials—Evans, referee; Bryant, head linesman.

APPOINTS 2 COMMITTEES

The junketing committee is the one which comes every two years to visit the State Normal school in Maryville.

CONCRETE POSTS ON FARM

Farmer's Idle Moments Can Be Used to Advantage In Improving Fencing.

Concrete fence posts are one of the concrete products that can be successfully made on the farm. Much of the farmer's idle time during the winter months can be put to good advantage in this work. There is nothing which detracts more from the appearance of the farm than a poor fence, and there is nothing which adds more to the appearance, efficiency and life of a fence than good durable posts.

To make concrete posts during the winter months precaution must be taken to see that the materials do not freeze before setting. A place for this work where there is no danger of freezing can be found on every farm.

There are certain requirements to obtain good results in making concrete posts that every user of concrete should have well in mind:

Use new cement that is free from lumps.

Use clean, coarse sand.

Use gravel or broken stone that is well graded: free from soft material, as clay, organic matter, etc.

Use enough cement. A rich mixture of one part cement, 1½ of sand, and three of broken stone not larger than 3-4 inches, is best for posts.

Mix cement and sand thoroughly while dry.

Add broken stone and water and continue mixing. Concrete mixed for a period of five minutes is much better than when mixed for one minute only.

Proper amount and proper placing of reinforcing is essential. Four 1-4 inch iron rods are necessary. Place these near each corner of the posts.

Have well made forms. There are a good many patented forms on the market, but home made forms have given just as good satisfaction.

Clean and oil form with a heavy oil before pouring concrete.

Leave posts in mold for at least 24 hours. In damp weather a longer period is necessary.

Keep posts moist the first week while curing. Allow them to season one month before using.

Handle concrete posts with care. They cannot be thrown from a wagon like wooden posts.

The uses of concrete on the farm will be discussed in a course offered by the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University of Missouri during the short course in Agriculture.

THE DAY OF THANKS

PRESIDENT DESIGNATES NOVEMBER 30 FOR CELEBRATION.

SAYS THINK OF OTHERS

Urges People of U. S. to Remember European War Sufferers With Substantial Donation.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson today formally by proclamation designated Thursday, Nov. 30, as Thanksgiving day.

Here follows the president's proclamation:

"It has long been the custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us and the nation.

"The year that has elapsed since we last observed our day of thanksgiving has been rich in blessings to us as a people, but the whole face of the world has been darkened by war. In the midst of our peace and happiness, our thoughts dwell with painful disquiet upon the struggles and sufferings of the nations at war and of the people upon whom war has brought disaster without choice or possibility of escape on their part. We cannot think of our own happiness without thinking of their pitiful distress.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do appoint Thursday, the 30th of November, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and urge and advise the people to resort to their several places of worship on that day to render thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of peace and unbroken prosperity, which He has bestowed upon out beloved country in such unstinted measure.

"And I also urge and suggest our duty, in this, our day of peace and abundance, to think in deep sympathy of the stricken peoples of the world upon whom the curse and terror of war has so pitilessly fallen and to contribute out of our abundant means to the relief of their sufferings.

"Our people could in no better way show their real attitude towards the present struggle of the nations than by contributing out of their abundance to the relief of the suffering which war has brought in its train.

"In witness whereof, I have here unto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this 17th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1916, and of the independence of the United States the 141st.

WOODROW WILSON.

STATECONSTITUTION

TEACHERS THINK TIME IS RIPE FOR COMPLETE REVISION.

PARTIES BACK PLAN

Political Organizations Indorse Movement to Bring About Change in Document.

The Constitutional Convention Committee of the Missouri State Teachers' Association will report to the Association tonight in St. Louis the progress of the movement for calling a convention to revise the present state constitution. The time in the committee's opinion is ripe for a new constitution for Missouri, not the contrary, as stated in yesterday's Missourian.

The committee was appointed a year ago and consists of Dean Walter Williams, Dr. W. H. Black, president of the Missouri Valley College at Marshall; Dr. W. S. Dearmont, president of the State Normal School at Cape Girardeau; Prof. W. P. Evans of St. Louis, former state superintendent of schools; and Prof. S. E. Davis of the State Normal School at Maryville.

During the year the committee has enlisted the co-operation of other organizations in the movement. Among these are the Missouri Bar Association, Missouri State Medical Association, Missouri Bankers' Association, Missouri Press Association, League of Missouri Municipalities, Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs, State Federation of Labor, St. Louis Bar Association, Ozark Press Association, Missouri Drummers' Association, Missouri Good Roads Association and the Missouri Saddle Horse Breeders' Association. Committees from these organizations have formed a New Constitution Association, of which Dean Williams is chairman; E. N. Meader, editor of the Cassville Republican and former student of the University, secretary; and W. P. Evans of St. Louis, treasurer. Mr. Meader this week opened an office in Jefferson City and will continue the propaganda.

A most important result of the committee's work has been obtaining endorsement from the state conventions of the Democratic, Republican, Prohibition and Progressive parties of the submission by the next General Assembly to the voters of Missouri of the question of calling a constitutional convention.

The committee believes that it is probable that the next General Assembly will pass a bill for an election on the question. If so, a campaign will be made throughout the state for a convention. If this campaign is successful and the majority of the votes cast at the special election are in favor of a convention, a second election must be held to choose delegates, two from each senatorial district, to the convention. When a new constitution is framed by the delegates thus chosen it must be submitted to the voters for their approval or rejection.

The provision of the present state constitution as to its amendment is in Article XV, Section 3, as follows:

"Constitution, how revised and amended by convention, etc.—The General Assembly may at any time authorize, by law, a vote of the people to be taken upon the question whether a convention shall be held for the purpose of revising and amending the Constitution of this State; and if at such election, a majority of the votes on the question be in favor of a convention, the Governor shall issue writs to the sheriffs of the different counties, ordering the election of delegates to such a convention, on a day not less than three and within six months after that on which the said question shall have been voted on. At such election each Senatorial district shall elect two delegates for each senator to which it may then be entitled to the General Assembly, and every such delegate shall have the qualifications of a State Senator. The election shall be conducted in conformity with the laws regulating the election of senators. The delegates so elected shall meet at such time and place as may be provided by law, and organize themselves into a convention, and proceed to revise and amend the Constitution; and the Constitution, when so revised and amended, shall, on a day to be therein fixed, not less than sixty days or more than six months after that on which it shall have been adopted by the convention, be submitted to a vote of the people for and against it, at an election to be held for the purpose; and if a majority of all the votes given be in favor of such Constitution, it shall, at the end of thirty days after such election, become the Constitution of this state. The result of such election shall be made known by proclamation by the Governor. The General Assembly shall have no power, otherwise than in this section specified, to authorize a convention for revising and amending the Constitution."

Paquin Sews Necklaces and Brooches Upon Evening Gowns to Insure Against Fatal Color Combinations

By Mme. Qui Vive

Is it not taken for granted that a lady knows how and where to wear a necklace? Is it not surmised that she may pin a beauteous brooch upon her corsage without suffering physical collapse? Evidently not. The couturieres of Paris are dubious. The necklace must be thus, they say; the brooch must be so-so. Hence they sew them—firmly and decisively—upon the robe that is beauty's envelope.

Simplified dressing? It is too easy. Naturally, the great designers must turn new tricks; otherwise they would fall from their high places. They say there is an art in the wearing of jewels. They place them among luminous metallic tissues, or soft furs, or bits of fine laces that are like the starlight of night only much less substantial. The effect is delightful. The jewel comes; it vanishes; it appears again. All of which is pleasantly dizzifying.

Trifles Transformed to Art.

This new idea was revealed to me at a private view of a valuable collection of robes, mantles, suits and negligees just over from the other side of the world where rule the high rulers of fashion. These jeweled ornaments are not of the de luxe order of gems, yet they possess the inspiration of art. Since these trifles, attached to the gown, must hang in the wardrobe—easy loot for burglars—they must necessarily be of no very great value.

Paquin, ever resourceful, is the godfather of the new idea. He selected from his stores of precious fabrics, a brocaded faille with a foundation of grandmother's brown over which is splendidly spread a bold design in gold and wheat color, and he made a costume combining the skirt of the Renaissance mode and the corsage of the Victorian period, with a wide bertha of filet lace. And among all its rich folds glittered yellow lights.

Fresh Notes in Costuming.

"Here," explained the importer, "is the fresh note, an attached chain of imitation topaz which encircles the neck, drops to the line of the decolletage, where it is locked fast with a butterfly-shaped brooch, and then falls among the laces and fur of the bodice trimming, until it is caught by the girdle and made to serve as a girdle clasp. This is, without doubt, the proper habiliment for the lazy girl. The frock goes over her head, the chain about her neck; it is but a moment's effort, and she is attired in sufficient magnificence to put the other woman's eye out.

"This step is quite in line with the present propaganda on the part of great dress artists to teach dress harmony and completeness of costume," she continued. "They provide certain hats for certain costumes, insist upon selecting footwear, suggest modish gloves, and now they have finally come to the consideration of that most important of all dress details—the matter of jewelry. They have found the solution. They select what is suitable, and they sew it on. It is there. If you take the model, you take the tralalas that go with it. And it usually happens that the traia is a large factor toward sartorial perfection. Also, it is my personal opinion that one should have at least a number of stunning, inexpensive articles of jewelry.

French couturieres select jewels and sew them on the costume.

Other Examples of the Trend.

"Paquin is not the only one who is doing this. I saw an evening gown by Doucet. It is made of Nancy blue tulle and a chain of lapis serves as shoulder straps, descends into a loose flowing rattling thing, and then attaches itself to the lower border of the long Moyen age tunic. Callot, who inclines toward Greek lines, with long flowing draperies, uses gold and sapphire on an opera gown, and caps the climax by adding a one-sided tiara, one-sided because it's peak and main ornament are not in the center at all, but almost over the left ear. A dancing frock of gooseberry red velvet bears ornaments of garnets on shoulder straps and pelerine ends.

"All of this shows that we are gradually awakening to the great possibilities of artistic dress. We are no longer willing to be sartorial burlesques or cartoons. And it is well."

Speedy and Easy Riding

There's little comfort in most low priced cars. You can't use their speeds. They jostle you—they ride roughly—they don't hold the road.

The $635 Overland is different. It is not only the speediest of low priced cars—

But you can use the full speed of its powerful motor when you need it.

It has long 42-inch, easy riding, shock absorbing cantilever rear springs. In addition the 75 B Overland is a longer car—104-inch wheelbase. And it has 4-inch tires.

Its smoothness and ease of riding at any speed would do justice to a much larger and heavier car.

Come in and let us demonstrate. That's the best kind of proof.

A vote of thanks was given Miss Peters, after which refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. L. N. Torrey.

ELMO REGISTER.

The new heating plant at the Elmo school house is about completed and it was fired up Tuesday evening after school was dismissed. It worked fine, and the heat was easily raised to 85 degrees. It is in use today, Wednesday, and seems to give splendid service. There are a few little things to do yet before the job is completed and turned over to the school board. The plant is called the Ideal Boiler and Radiators and is standard everywhere, and cost $1240. We can see where we missed it in not installing it several years ago.

George W. Kinman is reported very ill at his home in the northeast part of town today, Tuesday. It does not seem that the exact nature of his disease is known, but he suffers very much with one of his feet, and it is reported that gangrene has set in, and it is thought to be dangerous. We hope to hear of a turn for the better before this goes to press.

CONCEPTION COURIER.

Mrs. J. Scheumaker and daughter of Wyoming, who have been visiting relatives here for some time, went to Guilford Wednesday evening for a visit at the home of her brother, W. I. Carter and family.

Miss Helen Scheifelbusch of Blythesdale, Mo., has been visiting the past two weeks at the home of her sisters, Mrs. Eugene McCann and Mrs. Billy Merrigan near Clyde.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. B. Meek of Craig, Mo., who died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles McCannish. The deceased was the mother of Mrs. W. S. Vandeventer of this city, who has been there for the past ten days helping to care for her.

BARNARD BULLETIN.

Last Friday morning little Pauline Stalling, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stalling, got hold of some iodine and tried to drink it. The iodine burned her lips and throat very badly, but it was found that she swallowed very little of it. The little one had climbed up stairs alone and had found the bottle containing the drug in one of the rooms, the occupant of which had been using it on a sore tooth.

As we go to press we learn that Mrs. P. K. Ware is very low, having had a doctor at her bedside constantly since Wednesday evening. She was operated on about a month ago, and it was thought that she was improving nicely until this setback.

After a visit of a few days here he will go to Juarez, Mexico, and from there to New Orleans.

HOPKINS JOURNAL.

Clyde Melvin, assessor of Hopkins township, has a new Ford, bought, so Bill Alexander says, on the strength of Woodrow Wilson being re-elected to the presidency. If Hughes had been elected he figured he would have needed no car as he would have had to go to war.

Mrs. Maggie Reeder returned this week from a trip to St. Joseph and Kansas City. While in St. Joseph, Mrs. Reeder, by means of a writ of habeas corpus, secured the release of her son, Harmon, from Asylum No. 2, where he had been sent some months ago by the Nodaway county court as being insane. She took the boy to Kansas City, where he is now under the care of a trained nurse, and it is thought will soon regain his health, his mind never being defective, according to his mother.

If the average Hopkinsite should be asked, "how many voters do you suppose are in Hopkins township who voted here in 1904?" the reply in most cases would be, "most of 'em." But such is not the case. According to S. E. Browne, who revised the poll book of the year just mentioned, only 190 of the 534 voters then in this township remain, or in other words, 334 voters have either died or moved away and their places taken by new men. Like the sands of the sea people seem to be continually on the move, and even in small communities like this, many of the inhabitants are strangers to one another.

A. G. Bentley of Excelsior Springs, Mo., arrived here Wednesday for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Casteel, and family and to transact business matters.

Mrs. J. B. Clune and little son of Para Gould, Ark., arrived here Sunday for a visit with relatives in these parts. She is now visiting her aunt, Mrs. B. B. Holtman.

BURLINGTON JUNCTION POST.

James Lane went to Rochester, Minn., Tuesday morning, where he will take treatment at the Mayo Sanitarium. He was accompanied to Rochester by his son, C. D. Lane, of Burlington Junction. This is Mr. Lane's second trip to the Mayo hospital, and he will probably remain several weeks this time. He will stop at the Colonial hotel while in Rochester. Chas. Lane intends to return home the last of the week.

Master Jimmie Dunlap, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Dunlap, has been suffering from a very sore finger which became infected as the result of a fish fin piercing it several days ago. The finger was badly swollen and gave the boy a great deal of pain. Jimmie has been very industrious with his hooks and lines the past year and from the sale of fish he caught he realized sufficient funds to buy his clothing and provide him with "pin" money.

THINKS "13" LOST ELECTION

Superstitious Persons Call Mr. Hughes' Attention to Fatal Number of Ballot—Also Vote in Cal.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Nov. 18.—Superstitious persons here would call Mr. Hughes' attention to the figure "13" for they think this had a lot to do with deciding the election. Mr. Hughes joked when he voted ballot No. 13. But it seems probable 13 will be the president's majority in the electoral college—and 13 is the number of electoral votes of California, the state which finally decided the result.

BARNARD IMPROVEMENTS

Much Building Being Done in Grant Township This Fall—Other Changes Made.

Much building and improving is being done in and around Barnard this fall and winter. J. L. Davison completed a week ago a modern 8-room house on his farm. The work on John A. Fields' house in Barnard is progressing nicely, and when completed will make one of the nicest residences in town.

Many sheds and cribs are going up to take care of the corn crop. Westfall and Moberly are putting up a big barn on the old Ellis place, now occupied by H. E. Ogier. The house was recently repaired and a new porch built. J. M. Broadbent is doing some concrete work about his place. R. W. Bridges has moved his scales and fixed them up for use and will later build a cistern on his farm. Mark Baker has built a new garage for his Ford car. John Turner recently put in a new cistern at his home in town. Bill Hall erected a new corn crib and shed. Ralph Giffin built a double crib. Geo. Sell recently finished a crib on his place. Chas. Eaton and Henry Stalling each added a shed to their barn. Arthur Rasco built a new corn crib. Chas. Ashford completed a new concrete residence on his farm, which was completed about three weeks ago.

All these things indicate a wave of prosperity to this community and a certain progressive spirit that helps make an excellent community.—Barnard Bulletin.
